

ANTI-CIGARETTE BILL IS KILLED

Slaughtered in Senate Today Without a Word of Debate.

TO ADJOURN ON MAY 4

First Move Toward Final Adjournment Made in the Assembly Today.

KNOCK OUT FOR BROWN CO.

Madison, Wis., April 4.—The anti-cigarette bill was killed in the senate today by a vote of fifteen to twelve. It came from the judiciary committee with a majority in its favor, five to four, and a flood of oratory was expected on it, but it was slaughtered without a word of debate.

The first move towards the final adjournment of the legislature was made today in a joint resolution in the assembly providing that all business shall cease at midnight on May 2, except messages from the governor, and that adjournment sine die be taken May 4 at noon.

The assembly refused by a vote of 69 to 9 to concur in the senate amendment to the apportionment bill the purpose of which was admitted to give Brown county two assemblymen instead of one.

The assembly spent nearly three hours in discussing the bill to give Charles F. Pfister and Ephraim Mariner the lands granted the Green Bay ship canal company, whose property they purchased, and finally put it over until tomorrow without action.

GOVERNOR VETOES 5 BILLS.

Will Not Report Primary Bill Until Tomorrow or Saturday.

Madison, Wis., April 4.—Governor La Follette last night returned to the legislature five bills to which he refuses to affix his signature. This is the largest number of vetoes that have been returned in one batch by any governor for some years past. Four of the vetoes went to the assembly and one to the senate.

The committee on privileges and elections will not report to the senate today on the Stevens and Miller bills now pending before that body. It was expected that the committee would get its report ready last evening and hand it in today, but it will now probably be Friday or possibly Saturday before a report will be made.

The committee meeting was very short and adjourned until one o'clock today when it is expected that a report will be framed. There is a difference of opinion among the members as to the best possible way to proceed. It will be impossible for them to agree on a report. Messrs. Jones and Whitehead are opposed to the principle of the proposed law and will not yield, and Messrs. Martin and Miller represent the other extreme. Mr. Hutton wants a compromise measure.

The assembly last evening killed Mr. Spratt's bill providing for the repeal of the corrupt practice act.

The vote was 48 to 21. Only a few days ago the assembly ordered the bill engrossed after a lively debate and its action therefore was a surprise.

Among the bills passed by the assembly was one to change the law relating to the organization of railway companies, so that the amount of bonds issued by them does not exceed its actual property value. The Lake Shore Drive bill, relating to Milwaukee was also passed.

The senate session last night was short, adjournment being taken at 9 o'clock to allow members of the committee on Privileges and Elections to attend the meeting of that committee. Senators Roehr, Eaton, Devoes and Whitehead submitted petitions urging the passage of several bills.

FLAMES SWEEP FARMS.

Prairie Fire Devastates District and Causes Heavy Loss.

Huron, S. D., April 4.—A prairie fire swept over a stretch of country east of the Chicago, Milwaukee and St. Paul railway, starting a few miles southeast of Virgil and travelling north ten or twelve miles. The burned district is two miles wide. Several farmers suffered heavy losses. Frank Wood lost his house, barn, and a supply of hay and corn. Arthur Thompson lost a barn, and the immense sheep-sheds on the J. H. Cone ranch, four miles north of Virgil, were destroyed. Thousands of tons of hay were burned. The flames were driven by a gale blowing forty miles an hour.

FAILED TO SECURE FIFTY THOUSAND

Gang of Burglars Dynamite a Bank at Chardon, O.—Scared Away by Daylight.

Chardon, O., April 4.—After exploding fifteen charges of dynamite against the safe of the Citizens' Bank here early this morning and securing but one hundred and twenty-five dollars in loose money, a gang of burglars were frightened off by the approach of daylight. But one door remained to be blasted to secure fifty thousand dollars which lay in the safe. Night Watchman Pomeroy was overcome, bound and gagged after a terrible fight.

SUP'T MAYNE IS OFFERED THE PLACE

Ishpeming, Mich., Schools Want the Janesville Man to Take Charge in That City.

An Ishpeming, Mich., dispatch dated to the Milwaukee Sentinel says: "J. L. Neoline, superintendent of the Ishpeming schools, today tendered his resignation and it was accepted by the board of education. He leaves to take charge of the musical department of the American Book Co. D. D. Mayne, superintendent of the Janesville, Wis., schools has been offered the position here and it is said he will accept."

FUGITIVE HEINS TAKEN PRISONER

The Escaped Convict Sent to Waupun from Janesville, Captured at Burnett Junction.

Lewis Heins, who escaped from the state prison at Waupun Tuesday afternoon was captured early yesterday morning at Burnett Junction, while on his way to Milwaukee. He had stolen a ride a part of the way to the junction and had walked the rest of the distance. During the night officers who had been notified to watch for him heard that a man wearing a convict's uniform had passed a farm house. Officer H. T. Sargent of Burnett Junction made the capture finding the man on the railroad track south of the place, where he was waiting to catch a train toward Milwaukee. Heins was taken back to Waupun yesterday noon and for the next six months will be compelled to wear a suit of turkey red.

MRS. NATION WILL RULE CONCORD

Newly Elected Officials of a Nebraska Town Pledged To Act Only on Her Advice.

Concord, Neb., April 4.—For the next year this town will be conducted under the direct advice of Mrs. Carrie Nation and whatever she says is the municipal law. This was the issue here and the Carrie Nation ticket received nearly a unanimous vote.

The temperance people put in nomination for mayor Judge R. O. Mitchell and a full city council ticket. They signed the following pledge before being nominated:

"We pledge ourselves to use all honorable means to secure the services of Mrs. Carrie Nation as our sole adviser in our official duties, and to adopt no ordinance or measure of relative importance relative to the town government without first receiving Mrs. Nation's approval."

Two saloons in the town began breaking up their furniture after 12 o'clock last night when it was ascertained that Mrs. Nation would run the town after election. They were afraid that she would wire and get their furniture destroyed before they could remove it from the city.

The mayor today said that he had written Mrs. Nation apprising her of the vote of the people and the readiness of the new officials to accept her advice in all things municipal, and that an appropriation would be made to pay her for her services. She is asked to come to Concord as soon as possible for a conference.

It is said here by some of the admirers of Mrs. Nation that they propose to have an ordinance passed prohibiting smoking on the public streets and preventing any theatrical performances in the city. Drunkenness will be made a misdemeanor and punished by ducking or by public whipping. The greatest curiosity prevails as to the result of the novel situation. Concord is a village of 1,100.

CHINA REFUSES DEMANDS OF CZAR; MUST CONSIDER OTHER NATIONS

Russia is Formally Notified That the Manchurian Treaty Will Not Be Signed—Opinions That the Refusal Will Result in War.

Peking, April 4.—The Chinese government has formally notified Russia that China, owing to the attitude of the powers, is not able to sign the Manchurian convention.

"It is China's desire," says the formal notification, "to keep on friendly terms with all nations. At present she is going through a period which is the most perilous in the empire's history, and it is necessary that she should have the friendship of all. However willing she may be to grant any special privilege to one power, when others object, it is impossible that, for the sake of making one nation friendly, she should alienate the sympathies of all of the others."

Li Hung Chang says that this letter settles the matter definitely and that Russia was informally notified to the same effect on March 29. Prince Ching asserts that every Chinese except Li Hung Chang was against signing the convention.

Kwang Hsu Fears War. Canton, April 4.—It is reported here that the viceroy has received a telegram from the court to the effect that a peaceable negotiation of affairs is impossible. The viceroy is described as much disturbed by this communication.

St. Petersburg, April 4.—The correspondent of the associated press is informed by a trustworthy authority that the Manchurian convention has not yet been signed.

Great Interest at Washington. Washington, D. C., April 4.—Great interest was manifested in official diplomatic circles today over the report from Peking that the Chinese finally had determined not to sign the Manchurian agreement. No official information has reached this government or the principal foreign embassies. To the Russian ambassador, Count Cassini, the news came as a great surprise as he had hoped for a successful conclusion of the convention.

SEVENTEEN YEARS A BLANK TO HIM

A Long Lapse of Memory Gives a Pittsburg Man Practically Two Lives

Pittsburg, April 4.—Brain specialists have examined Francis Frederick Washburn, whose double lapse of memory gave him practically two lives. Seventeen years ago, while traveling on the Rock Island Road, near Rock Island, Washburn was injured in a wreck. Later he came to Allegheny, married and engaged in business. A few days ago one of his children dropped a lighted lamp on the floor.

It so startled Washburn that he fell and became unconscious. Next day when consciousness returned he thought he was back in the hospital where he was taken from the wreck, and asserted that the past seventeen years were a blank to him.

"If you want a brand new sensation," said Washburn yesterday, "just go out of the world for seventeen years and then come back. When I awoke the other day I thought I was in the Rock Island hospital, and the woman in the room was the nurse. When I asked her if she was the nurse she said she was my wife. I was indignant and ordered her from the room. I thought I was twenty-four years old and unmarried. When she brought in a marriage certificate and four children who said they were mine, I thought I was being tricked. They thought I was crazy."

"I looked in a mirror and instead of a smooth faced young man of twenty-four, I was reflected there a middle aged man with whiskers. I was dazed and could not believe it. They told me I was a painter and a good one, but I knew little about that trade before the wreck. They told me I have been riding in trolley cars for ten years, but when one came by me a few days ago I was scared. They weren't known in my first time. These tall office scrapers with their express elevators, automobiles and other things that were unknown in 1884, and electric lights were but experiments. Now the lighted streets at night dazzle me."

"When I go out people who have known me for years stop and talk with me. I don't know them. I'm afraid to look at people for fear of offending them. People ask me about things I have done for them during the last seventeen years and I don't know what to say to them. I'm just getting acquainted with my children, who range from three to nine years. Just imagine not knowing one's own children. Wouldn't that surprise you?"

AN EXCITING DAY IN THE GRAIN PIT

"Corn King" Phillips Holds the Bears in Check—Wheat, Oats and Corn Take a Drop

Chicago, April 4.—George H. Phillips, leader of an army of farmers and country investors in corn, oats and wheat, was attacked yesterday by the united Bear forces of the Board of Trade, led by half a dozen speculative generals, and given such a fight as brokers will speak about for years to come.

He saw 3 cents clipped off the price of wheat, 2 cents off corn and more than a cent off oats. He put up $200,000 in margins in addition to the $600,000 he had put up before in the last three days, sacrificed all of his holdings in order to make himself stronger in corn and oats, and came out at the end of the day as confident as ever that he will win in the end.

Now he predicts 60-cent corn by the end of the month instead of 50-cent corn, of which he talked before. Mr. Phillips made a reputation for a brilliant, skillful campaigner when he brought his November corn deal to a successful close, but he put his reputation much higher yesterday by his masterly defensive tactics.

In the wild excitement of the Board of Trade, both at its opening and closing, he was the one quiet, calm man. The bears were out to drive him and his followers into a panic, and they were rewarded by seeing him smile and stand around with his hands in his pockets while they were doing their worst.

The New Cup Defender.

New York, April 4.—It is announced that the name of the new cup defender will be "Constitution." Many yachtsmen favored the "America," but failed to impress the New York yacht club with its importance.

Charles Carter of Milwaukee, an old Janesville boy is shaking hands with his friends and renewing old acquaintances.

EDWARD'S THROAT IS ALL RIGHT

Sir Felix Semon, the German Specialist, Has Made an Examination and Says So.

London, April 4.—King Edward's throat has been examined by Sir Felix Semon, the German specialist, who reports no grounds for alarm regarding its condition. The king has been deeply impressed by the fate of Emperor Frederick and his own brother, the Duke Saxe-Coburg, and has engaged Semon permanently on his medical staff.

HOT FIGHT OVER THE LIBRARY SITE

People of Rockford, Ill., Are Divided on Proper Location for Carnegie Building.

Rockford, Ill., April 4.—Andrew Carnegie has stirred up contention in Rockford to which he has offered money for a library building. The matter of the location of the institution has stirred up a fight which seems incapable of settlement. The site feature is the bone of contention. Real estate men and others having land to sell and the people are divided in the matter of locating the institution on one or another side of the town. The people are getting up long petitions, holding meetings, and using up newspaper space in having the proposed building put up on one side or another.

PRESIDENT EATON RETURNS

Head of Beloit College Has Fully Recovered on His Trip.

Beloit, Wis., April 4.—President Eaton of Beloit college has returned from his trip in Mexico invigorated in health and with renewed enthusiasm for the college. His time between now and commencement will be largely given to the endowment matter. Concerning the desire of the trustees that he recall his resignation, he will not speak.

REDS QUICKLY LOSE MONEY.

Allowances from the Government Spent in Gambling.

Wichita, Kan., April 4.—The Indians of the Kiowa, Comanche, Apache and Cheyenne tribes are just now engaged in their spring gambling. They will keep it up until they are all broke when they will retire to their homes and work the rest of the summer for a living. The most of their money will go to the cattle men and cowboys. The Indians hardly ever win a game. The government has just paid them their money and each redskin has somewhere near one hundred dollars. Women take part the same as the men.

Thousands of dollars may be placed on the ground at once. The Indians stand by and see their large rolls fade away with stoicism. They never seem to worry about the loss of a hundred dollars; but when they are broke they set out for home.

One of the most famous gamblers among the Indians is Geronimo, who was once a noted Apache warrior. He is a good poker player and can always win at that game. But his favorite game is monte, and at that game he always loses.

GHASTLY FIND IN A GIRL'S TRUNK

Mexican Woman Slays Her Lover and Saves Eyes, Tongue and Hand as Souvenirs.

Austin, Tex., April 4.—A dispatch from Guadalajara, Mex., says:

"Further investigation by the authorities show that the murder of Gonzales Michel, one of the wealthiest merchants of the state of Jalisco, who was killed by his mistress at Tlapi, this state, was one of the most diabolical crimes ever conceived and carried into execution."

A search of the residence of La of Michel, has brought to light the body of Michel has brought to light parts of the man's body. In her trunk was found the victims' eyes, tongue and right hand.

On being asked her motive in guarding the ghastly relics, she said that on account of her fondness for her victim that she wished to preserve them as souvenirs.

The fact that she admits having mutilated the body and her coldness in discussing it, is leading the belief that she may be insane. She will be examined as to her mental affliction.

BARS CATHOLICS AND NEGROES

Contingent Request of $100,000 for Scholarships at Wellesley.

Boston, Mass., April 4.—In the will of David W. Hitchcock, filed in the Probate court, appears the following clause, referring to a contingent bequest of $100,000 to the Wellesley Female seminary to establish scholarships for worthy young women: "I exclude Roman Catholics and colored persons because I feel the introduction into said seminary of pupils who differ essentially in race and religion from the others may prevent the best interests thereof. Such girls are to be selected as the beneficiaries of this fund by the officers of said seminary as would be unable to afford the expense of an education at said institution without such assistance, and I request said officers to limit the benefit of said assistance to such girls as appear to them to be bright and intelligent and likely to profit thereby."

If the trustees of the seminary refuse to accept the trust the testator directs that the fund be given to the Museum of Fine Arts. The will contains bequests to several local charities.

Rebels May All Surrender.

New York, April 3.—A special to Herald from Washington says: Important proposals relative to the surrender of all the insurgents in the Philippines have been made by Aguinaldo, through Gen. MacArthur, to the United States.

AGUINALDO IS ONLY ON PROBATION

Will Not Be Given His Freedom—He Expresses a Desire to Visit the United States.

Washington, D. C., April 4.—Aguinaldo is to remain a prisoner of this government for an indefinite period. This fact was made clear today at the war department, and it was also learned that there has been no disposition to follow any other course.

It is evident that the facility with which Aguinaldo turned his coat and took the oath of allegiance was a surprise to the administration. Of course it was the desire of the administration that Aguinaldo take the oath in due time, but his haste in swallowing what anti-imperialists say is a bitter pill is all but ludicrous.

Therefore the action of the rebel leader is open to suspicion. As a high official said this morning: "The natives of the oriental countries have been known to make promises."

It is also remembered that Aguinaldo has had dealings with Spain, and

DESIGNED LIKE GOVERNMENT MINT

Plans Selected for the New Janesville Postoffice Building.

WILL HAVE NO TOWERS

The Structure To Be Modeled After the U. S. Mint in Philadelphia.

WORK WILL BEGIN IN JUNE

Supervising Architect Taylor of the Treasury department said today, says the Washington correspondent of the Milwaukee Sentinel in that paper this morning, that the draftsmen of his office are having an interesting time preparing sketch plans for the new public buildings authorized by congress, the limit cost of which is from $50,000 to $100,000. In some of the places where buildings are to be constructed there are federal courts and it is desired that the buildings shall be three stories high and in the smaller towns two stories will be erected.

Of forty new buildings to be constructed, sketch plans have been prepared for all except fourteen, and when the specifications are complete bids for the erection of the buildings will be advertised for.

A marked departure has been made by the supervising architect in the designs of these small buildings. There will be no more towers, and the architecture is so changed that the federal buildings to cost $100,000 or less will be distinctive and wholly unlike other buildings in the cities.

The most interesting design thus far selected is for the building at Janesville, Wis. It is designed somewhat after the government mint at Philadelphia.

The front will be adorned with six large pillars of brick and terra cotta, which will be the material used in the building itself. The architect believes that the design will make handsome public buildings.

It is proposed to begin work on all of these buildings on or before June

D. D. THOMPSON NAMED

Appointed Editor of the Northwestern Advocate in Place of the Late Dr. Arthur Edwards.

Chicago, Ill., April 4.—David D. Thompson, who has been appointed editor of the Northwestern Christian Advocate, the official publication of the Methodist Episcopal church of the Northwestern states, to fill the vacancy caused by the death of Dr. Arthur Edwards. Mr. Thompson is well known in church circles, having served as assistant editor of the publication for years.

Ex-GOV. SCOFIELD IS ROBBED.

Summer Home at Oconto Stripped of all Valuables.

Oconto, Wis., April 4.—Ex-Governor Scofield's residence here, which has not been occupied by members of the family for some time, was found to be robbed of most everything of value that was stored there or about the rooms.

Mr. Scofield said this morning that it was impossible to place an estimate on the loss until he had seen Mrs. Scofield. A great many of the articles taken were heirlooms and family relics, and it is thought that the loss will run up into the thousands.

THE CIGARETTE FIEND

Breaks Down Barriers Which Restrained The Tobacco Hog.

The general verdict is that the cigarette is responsible for the breaking down of all the barriers which restrained the tobacco hog in former years, and the reasons given for this are twofold, says the New York Sun. In the first place the lighted cigarette is so easily smuggled into places where smoking is prohibited and is so easily smoked then on the sly. Then in the second place, the cigarette fiend never takes a smoke and has done with it. He must be smoking perpetually, if keeping the entire chest cavity forever in a smudge can be called smoking.

Holding a lighted cigarette in the hollow of the hand so it easily escapes detection is the easiest thing in the world—one of the first tricks learned by the initiated into the finger stained, hollow-eyed, pasty-faced cigarette guild. An honest pipe or cigar is a frank, open affair, which one is either smoking or is not. Neither can be carried about in public without making its presence known. But the burning cigarette may be carried anywhere by the adept fiend and escape detection. He can sneak it onto an elevated railway platform or even into a car and be unperceived by the guard. Once on the platform, the fiend has things all his own way. He can pump himself full of the reek and let it out into women's faces right and left. There are generally half a dozen or more of them at it on every elevated railway platform. It is beyond any one guard to keep track of, much less control them. If he lets the cigarette go it he must extend the same privilege to cigars. Besides, the cigar smoke, any way, is rather an antidote than otherwise to the poisonous stench of the cigarette. So the cigarettes in this manner opened the way for the cigars, and even the pipes, with the result that the tobacco hog is now fully loose on the elevated platforms, spreading the reek of his sty all about him.

To a very great extent we are free from the tobacco chewing swine. Public opinion got to be a little too much for even this form of the porker to stand out against. But with his disappearance came the cigarette maniac, and by just how much the world has been benefited by the change is a matter about which there is some variety of opinion.

There is this semblance between the tobacco chewer and the cigarette fiend, that each, to be entirely happy, must be uninterruptedly engaged in his respective tobacco villainy. The deeds the confirmed tobacco chewer does are of course unfit for publication, and it only in guarded language that the real cigarette fiend's atrocities may be hinted at. Some of the more abandoned ones, we know, do not let up their smoking even while they are eating. They can't quite keep their cigarettes going while they are asleep, and whether that on the whole is a public advantage is a question on which there is a legitimate difference of opinion. Some people hold that could the cigarette fiend keep at it continuously, both sleeping and waking, he would kill himself quicker than by only smoking during his waking hours. Without disputing the benefit to society from rapid death among the cigarette swine would entail, there are others who maintain that, on the whole, there is more gained by the escape from his stench, if it be but for a few hours out of the twenty-four, than there would be by even a higher death rate. But that is a side issue. The point is that the cigarette fiend's inability to refrain from smoking even for comparatively a few minutes at a time when there is the smallest chance for him to keep the cigarette going, is one of the causes which have led to the latter day abandonment of restraint among smokers in general. The diminutive, insidious cigarette opened the way for the general tobacco inundation that followed.

A Testimonial From Old England. "I consider Chamberlain's Cough Remedy the best in the world for bronchitis," says Mr. William Savhas saved my wife's life, she having been a martyr to bronchitis for over six years, being most of the time confined to her bed. She is now quite well." It is a great pleasure to the manufacturers of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy to be able to publish testimonials of this character. They show that great good is being done pain and suffering being relieved and valuable lives restored to health and happiness by this remedy. It is for sale by People's Drug Store and King's Pharmacy.

HOMELY MEN

DO WOMEN ADMIRE THEM?

IN A QUEEN'S CONFESSION BOOK. In a "confession" book owned by the handsome and accomplished Queen Amelle of Portugal one of the questions asked is, "Do women admire ugly men?"

The empress of Russia answered this as follows, "Yes, I believe that some women admire ugly men—when handsome ones are out of their reach."

Queen Margherita of Italy gave the following witty reply: "From fifteen to thirty a woman loves a handsome man; from thirty to fifty she admires a handsome man, and after fifty she worships a man in any shape or form."

Princess Henry of Battenberg, wrote: "Many ugly men are very lovable, undoubtedly—but, then, so are many handsome men. However, 'handsome is as handsome does' and a good looking man with only his good looks to fall back upon would have a poor chance of winning any right minded girl's affection."

In answer to another question, "What quality do women most admire in men?" the queen of Portugal herself wrote in her book: "Purity in a man is surely as grand and as ennobling as purity in a woman. The most contemptible of all beings is a man with a 'rickety reputation,' sneering at the woman who is not exactly comme il faut."

It is well known that the Princess of Wales admires "modesty" in a man more than any other quality. The following little anecdote bearing out this statement is told. At a party, the princess was talking, in her usual unaffected manner, to a very quiet, demure looking, almost insignificant middle aged man. A friend, or rather, an acquaintance, of the princess happened to come along at the time and was introduced.

After a few commonplace observations the trio broke up. "I hope your royal highness will pardon what I am going to say," remarked the princess' acquaintance, "but, really, that gentleman you just introduced me to is awfully milk and watery. I don't think he would have the courage to win a woman's heart." "Oh, indeed!" quietly replied the princess. "Well, Capt. — might not have the courage to win a woman's heart; but all the same, he has had the courage to win the Victoria cross!"

Rostand's hero, Cyrano de Bergerac, was a very homely man, but one worthy of a woman's love. Many men distinguished in politics, war and literature have been ugly in the sense of not having handsome faces and easy manners.

From Washington

How a Little Boy Was Saved.

Washington, D. C.—"When our boy was about 16 months old he broke out with a rash which was thought to be measles. In a few days he had a swelling on the left side of his neck and it was decided to be mumps. He was given medical attendance for about three weeks when the doctor said it was scrofula and ordered a cure. He wanted to lance the sore, but I would not let him and continued giving him medicine for about four months when the bunch broke in two places and became a running sore. Three doctors said it was scrofula and each ordered a blood medicine. A neighbor told me of a case somewhat like our baby's which was cured by Hood's Sarsaparilla. I decided to give it to my boy and in a short while his health improved and his neck healed so nicely that I stopped giving him the medicine. The sore broke out again, however, whereupon I again gave him Hood's Sarsaparilla and its persistent use has accomplished a complete cure. I do not think there will be even a scar left. I cannot speak too highly of Hood's Sarsaparilla and I recommend it everywhere I get a chance." Mrs. NETTIE CHASE, 47 K St., N. E.

Like Magic.

"A complication of troubles, dyspepsia, chronic catarrh and inflammation of the stomach, rheumatism, etc., made me miserable. Had no appetite until I took Hood's Sarsaparilla, which acted like magic. I am thoroughly cured." N. B. SZELEY, 1374 West 14th Ave., Denver, Col.

If you have failed to get relief from other remedies try Hood's Sarsaparilla. It cures when all others fail, because it is Peculiar to Itself.

A DESERT TRAGEDY.

BY FRANK CROFOOT. IN RECREATION.

The sun sinks slowly from sight in the West, leaving behind a broad track of golden light. Over the boundless desert the mantle of twilight slowly descends, blotting out the dark hills on the distant horizon and changing the scattered rocks into grotesque images of men and animals. As the short twilight deepens and darkens and the gloomy reign of night begins, the silent desert wakes to life. On the still air of the summer night the demoniacal cry of a gaunt and ravenous hyena, searching for his prey in the darkness, and shrieking with craven fear when the low, rumbling roar of the desert king breaks on the air. Higher and higher it thunders over the broad expanse of desert sand.

It arouses the still, prostrate figure of a man, who lies on his face in the sand, in the same position he has occupied since, overcome with heat and hunger and thirst, he fell on the hot ground and buried his wan, haggard face in his arms, crying out to God in bitter anguish, to release him from his awful agony. He shivers with dread and tries to rise, but his weakened limbs refuse their service, and he sinks back on the ground with a groan of agony and despair, burying his face yet deeper in his arms as if to hide himself from the fierce eyes of the desert monarch, whose awesome roaring approaches nearer and nearer, accompanied by the frenzied shriek of the hyena.

Now the jackal mingles his voice with the others. Together their voices ring and echo in awful chorus over the desert, like the cries of lost souls wandering in misery through the barren regions of the lower world and crying aloud in their black and bitter despair. The man shudders again and again. Fear freezes his heart. He dares not raise his head and gaze about him. Dread of the awful sight his eyes might encounter holds him as with a chain of steel, and he is powerless to move. Nearer and nearer come the awful voices. Could he but raise his terror stricken eyes he might see the gleaming balls of fire that shine weirdly from the darkness, like stars of the lower world. Now he hears the stealthy step of the king of the desert, creeping in gradually narrowing circles about him. Now it ceases; and the awful roar thunders again over the gloomy desert.

With a giant effort, the man summons his failing strength and, turning on his side, draws from the breast of his flannel shirt a small case. Pressing it to his lips, he falls back in his former position and for a moment lies nearly swooning with pain and exhaustion.

The stealthy step comes nearer and he tries to murmur the prayer he learned at his mother's knee. There is a momnet's silence, a slight scratching of the sand, and he feels a score of red hot irons in his back and a hot breath fan his cheek. There is a sickening sound of rending flesh and crushing bone, and a single wild, heart rending shriek of mortal agony and terror echoes and re-echoes over the night enshrouded desert. There is a low growl of gratification; then all is still save the sound of savage feasting.

The hyena and jackal still raise their voices on the air; the night wears on; the pitying stars creep out of their dark chambers, one by one; and the white moon throws her silver veil over the desert.

Now the stars fade; the Eastern sky turns rosy at the magic touch of dawn; the Sun-god drives his golden chariot over the rim of the desert and rises higher and higher into the heavens. Luna yields her reluctant sceptre and follows the stars with noiseless footsteps. Day reigns over the earth.

The sharp cracking of whips, the dismal creeping of wagons and the lusty shouts of men ring on the still air of early morning, blended with the howling of a refractory ox or the joyous barking of a dog. A traveler riding at the head of the train dismounts and gazes with terror stricken eyes on a few scattered bones. Then, turning over the whitened skull with the marks of savage teeth on its polished surface, he finds, pressed against the grinning mouth, the portrait of a beautiful, dark haired girl, whose sweet, half serious, half laughing blue eyes look into his with a dreamy smile of tender love in their clear, fathomless depths.

MISS ELSIE ESMOND, AS "BONITA," IN "ARIZONA."

The production of Augustus Thomas' new comedy-drama, "Arizona" at the Myers Grand, Monday, April 8 will introduce to most Janesville people in its stage pictures and architecture, an absolute novelty. The artists who created the scenic investiture of "Arizona," made a trip out to the picturesque southwestern territory for the purpose of sketching "from life" the bits of Aravaipa Valley landscape and architecture which Mr. Thomas and his artistic mentor, Frederick Remington insisted upon as the only possible enframing for the dramatic story. The Mexican Aztec architecture of diltinted adobe and brilliant red tiles, the formal rectangular bits from Fort Grand army post, are characteristic of Arizona, possibly of New Mexico, but certainly of no other locality on the face of the earth. In addition to elaborate and correct stage enframing, "Arizona" will be accorded the benefit of a first rate cast. Prices, $1.75, 50c, 25c. Sale open at box office Friday at ten o'clock.

Can a sermon be preached or acted a performance of "Quo Vadis" one must unhesitatingly answer "yes." No one can attend this remarkable play without being benefitted and uplifted by it. So reverently acted and so skillfully handled is the recital of the Lord's Prayer by the aged Apostle Peter that no offence is given to those who hold religion as dear and sacred. Nothing could be in stronger and stranger contrast than the heartless cruelty of the Emperor Nero and the saintly Christians as they existed in the actual past, in the alluring story of the novelist, and in the dramatization of the latter. It is possible, of course, to compress into a brief play but a fraction of the novelist's elaborate work, yet they

STAFF CAPT. BUTLER WOKE AUDIENCE UP STREET PARADES WILL BE THE ORDER HEREAFTER.

First Salvation Army Rally Held Last Night—What They Lacked in Numbers They Made Up in Enthusiasm—Plans of Local Army as Outlined by the Captain.

A salvation army service was held in the lecture room of the Court St. M. E. church last evening and while only a handful of people were gathered together at the appointed time, before the meeting was over the room was well filled.

It had been expected that Staff Captain Waite would be present to conduct the meeting but for some unknown reason he failed to arrive in the city and the project of proceeding with a street meeting was abandoned.

In the absence of Staff Captain Waite, Captain Butler, who has been here for the past ten days arranging for the establishment of an army had charge of the meeting. It was a typical salvation army service although the army consisted of one man and a guitar. The meeting opened with singing and at the start Capt. Butler, his guitar and one or two faithful friends were the only participants. Then the army method was called into service. Over and over the chorus was sung until the chill of the meeting was broken and every person in the room was joining in the rousing hallelujah chorus. It made no difference whether they could sing or not, the inspiration of the moment swept them along with the tide and every one seemed to enjoy it.

"There is a difference between the music of the church and salvation army music," said Captain Butler. "The church believes in walking, the salvation army in trotting and pacing." Then he asked the women to sing alone, then the men and finally everyone joined in the chorus and the volume of sound that arose from the few people was quite surprising.

A meeting of testimony and prayer followed, then Capt. Butler gave a brief talk on salvation army methods the work closing with the reading of the first Psalm and a few remarks on it.

"Folks call us a peculiar people," said Captain Butler, "and I suppose we are. Our methods are novel in a way but you will get used to us in a short time and we shall get along nicely together."

He continued by giving some of his own personal experiences in the work, illustrating that salvation army work is not confined to meetings and street work, but that the recruits must be ready to go into homes, sometimes abodes of wretchedness and squalor, and do whatever they can to better the conditions. Many a time their mission is accomplished by means of the dishpan and the scrubbing brush.

In response to a request for a statement of the expense of carrying on the work in this city, Capt. Butler stated that he thought that it would cost about $100 a month. According to the rules of the army his salary would be $100 a month. The rules give a married man $10 a week with $1 additional for each child. Then there will be the rest of the meeting hall and the home, light, heat and other current expenses. He hoped to cover the rental by pledge cards and he would trust to the collections for his salary and the other expenses.

A notable feature of the meeting was the encouragement which a prominent church worker gave the movement. He said that he thought the time was ripe in Janesville for the salvation army and that there was a great field for work here. He could be relied upon to endorse it, to help it financially and in every other possible way as far as he was able.

The second story of the Conrad block on South Main street, out of which Clinton's bindery is being moved, has been rented as the army barracks. Lumber has been purchased and Capt. Butler and a helper are making seats for the hall. As soon as the work and the other necessary arrangements can be completed regular services will be held. Capt. Butler and his wife will have charge of the work here and they are expected to build up the army by securing their own recruits.

Duel in a Courtroom.
Cincinnati, O., April 4.—A Times-Star special from Chattanooga says: A sensational shooting occurred in Kingston in the courtroom during a session of the court. Sam A. Brazeale and James J. Littleton, prominent attorneys, fired six shots each at each other. Both were hit, but not seriously hurt. The men are leading Republican politicians in the Second congressional district. The quarrel arose over a speech which Littleton made against Brazeale, who is running for mayor of Kingston. Both men are under arrest.

Death of Harry Budworth.
New York, April 4.—Harry Budworth, the old-time minstrel and vaudeville performer, died last night of hemorrhage of the lungs at the home of a friend in this city. Mr. Budworth was over 50, and at one time was one of the most popular members of Haverly's minstrel troupe. Recently he played the vaudeville houses with his wife, Nellie Budworth.

IT IS IMPORTANT.

To Know What You are Taking When Using Catarrh Medicines. Catarrh is the short rout to consumption, and the importance of early and judicious treatment of catarrh, whether located in the head, throat or bronchial tubes, cannot be too strongly emphasized.

The list of catarrh cures is as long as the moral law and the forms in which they are administered, numerous and confusing, from sprays, inhalers, washes, ointments, and salves to powders, liquids and tablets.

The tablet form is undoubtedly the most convenient and effective, but in nearly all advertised catarrh remedies it is nearly all guess work as to what you are taking into your system, as the proprietors, while making all sorts of claims as to what their medicines will do, always keep it a close secret as to what they are.

The success and popularity of the new catarrh cure, Stuart's Catarrh Tablets, is largely because it not only cures catarrh but because catarrh sufferers who used these tablets know what they are taking into their systems. Stuart's Catarrh Tablets being composed of Eucalyptol, Hydrastin, Guaiacol, and similar vegetable and antiseptic ingredients, and are pleasant to the taste and being dissolved in the mouth they take immediate effect upon the mucous lining of the throat, nasal passages and whole respiratory tract.

The cures that Stuart's Catarrh Tablets have accomplished in old, chronic cases of catarrh are little short of remarkable, and the advantage of knowing what you are taking into your stomach is of paramount importance when it is remembered that the cocaine or morphine habit has been frequently contracted as the result of using secret catarrh remedies.

Stuart's Catarrh Tablets meet with cordial approval from physicians, because their antiseptic character render them perfectly safe for the general public to use and their composition makes them a common sense cure for all forms of catarrhal troubles.

All druggists sell them at 50 cents for full sized packages.

The Best Blood Purifier.

The blood is constantly being purified by the lungs, liver and kidneys. Keep these organs in a healthy condition and the bowels regular and you will have no need of a blood purifier. Sample free at People's Drug and King's Pharmacy.

Northern Wisconsin Railway Farm Lands for Sale.

The Northwestern line has for sale in northern Wisconsin, at low prices, and easy terms of payment, about 350,000 acres of choice farm lands. Early buyers will secure the advantage of locations on the many beautiful streams and lakes, which abound with fish and furnish a never ending and most excellent water supply, both for family use and for stock.

Land is generally well timbered, soil fertile and easy of cultivation, and this is rapidly developing into one of the greatest sheep and cattle raising regions in the northwest.

Chicago, Milwaukee, St. Paul, Minneapolis, Duluth, Superior, Ashland and other towns on "The Northwestern line" furnish good markets for stock and farm produce. For further particulars address Geo. W. Bell, Land Commissioner, Hudson, Wis., or G. H. MacRae, Assistant General Passenger Agent, St. Paul, Minn.

Low Rates to California and Back This Summer.

An illustrated book, which will be of much interest to all who are expecting to take advantage of the low rates to California this summer, at the time of the Epworth League Convention, to be held in San Francisco in July, has just been issued by the Chicago & North-Western Railway. Much valuable information is given relating to the state, variable routes, etc. The rate via this line will be only $50.00 for the round trip from Chicago, with corresponding low rates from other points. Copy of this book may be had free upon application to W. B. Kniskern, 22 Fifth Avenue, Chicago, Ill.

The Best Remedy for Rheumatism, Quick Relief from Pain.

All who use Chamberlain's Pain Balm for rheumatism are delighted with the quick relief from pain which it affords. When speaking of this Mr. D. N. Sinks, of Troy, Ohio, says: "Some time ago I had a severe attack of rheumatism in my arm and shoulder. I tried numerous remedies, but got no relief until I was recommended by Messrs. Geo. F. Parsons & Co., druggists of this place, to try Chamberlain's Pain Balm. They recommended it so highly that I bought a bottle. I was soon relieved of all pain. I have since recommended this liniment to many of my friends, who agree with me that it is the best remedy for muscular rheumatism in the market. For sale by People's Drug Store and King's Pharmacy."

THE JANESVILLE GAZETTE

Entered at the postoffice at Janesville, Wis., as second class matter.

TELEGRAPHIC SERVICE.

The Gazette receives the full daily telegraphic report of the Scripps-McRae Press Association.

ELECTION RESULTS.

The result of the election in Janesville was not a surprise so far as the city ticket was concerned. Republican sentiment is strong in the city, and the ticket won by an old time majority. The successful candidates have reason to congratulate themselves.

A pronounced majority is always gratifying, because it expresses public sentiment, with no uncertain sound. Mayor Richardson, Mr. Badger and Mr. Burnham succeed themselves, with the knowledge of the fact that their services are appreciated and endorsed by strong public sentiment. There is no occasion for complaint on the part of the defeated party or its candidates. Mr. Valentine is an excellent citizen and would make a good executive officer. Had he been elected no one would have occasion to complain, but he lacked the necessary votes by a large majority, and the people said by this vote, "We are satisfied with Mr. Richardson." The will of the people is supreme on such questions, and while defeated candidates are inclined to think that the people have made a mistake, the people look at it from another point of view and are satisfied.

What is true of Mr. Valentine is true of his colleagues on the ticket. They were all good men but were not on the winning side. Mr. Reeder's majority shows that republican sentiment was loyal to the party, and that this sentiment is largely in the ascendancy.

It is to be regretted that this same spirit of party loyalty did not prevail in the republican wards. Mr. Gilkey was the regular nominee in the Third ward and as such was entitled to the vote of the party. The opposition to him which developed at the caucus should not have been carried to the polls.

Dr. Mills was also entitled to the vote of the party in the Second ward. He might have been elected by a good majority, and should have been.

Mr. Hemmens made an unusually good run in the Fourth. The ward is naturally democratic by a good majority. Mr. Hemmens wiped it out, and a few votes would have turned the scale in his favor. His defeat contains the element of victory, and shows what can be done in the ward with the right kind of a candidate. Mr. Hemmens is a life long resident of the ward, and may be heard from later.

The council is a tie, with a republican mayor. It has an opportunity to display good judgment, and progressive enterprise. The people have a right to expect intelligent service and the council will respect their rights.

SEWERAGE.

The interest expressed in the sewerage question is gratifying, because it shows that the people are giving the subject thought. While considerable opposition developed, the majority in every ward was so pronounced, that there can be no question about the duty of the new council. Even the opponents of the movement will admit that the city will be benefited by sewerage, and the supporters of the measure are so largely in the ascendancy, that public sentiment is practically united on the basis of public benefit.

The only argument that can be used against it is the cost. The cost can be spread over a term of years, and long before the necessary indebtedness is paid, the increased value of property will make good the outlay, to say nothing about the improved sanitary conditions and the comfort that will result.

The citizens have taken a step in the right direction. The same spirit of enterprise kept up through the year will be felt for good. The people that win in this world are the people that take some chances, and the cities that win are controlled by this class of people. Janesville has taken plenty of time to rest, and a little work for home interests and home prosperity, will act like a tonic, and will be good for everybody.

Tom Johnson, the single tax reformer, carried the city of Cleveland for mayor, by his personal popularity. He will undoubtedly make the city a good mayor, as he is an enterprising public spirited citizen. He possesses political ambition and promises to be another thorn in the flesh for the democratic party, under whose wing he is seeking protection. The party needs a few more Bryan's to overload it, and turn it right side up.

Wm. J. Bryan congratulates Cleveland and Toledo, in having promoted two men to office, that are men after his own heart. Mr. Bryan is looking out for kindred spirits, with a view to make up of his cabinet in 1904. His prophetic vision improves with age and while his prophecies are not reliable, they are a never ending source of satisfaction to the Nebraska statesman.

Golden Rule Jones has again come to the surface and the people of Toledo will enjoy the pleasure of his administration for another term. Ohio has several public spirited citizens that will never be completely happy until they emigrate to Kansas. They don't do much harm in spring elections, but would be unsafe propositions if clothed with more than local authority.

Aguinaldo has sworn to be good. If he will stay by the proposition, and lend a hand, conditions in the Philippines will improve with rapid strides. His American sympathizers will be out of a job unless they take the oath of allegiance. It is about time for that class of home traitors to ring off.

MRS. A. CARPENTER DIED AT LINN, MASS.

She Was One of Rock County's Old Settlers—Remains Will Be Brought to Janesville.

Mrs. Carpenter, widow of the late Adolphus Carpenter and mother of M. J. Carpenter of La Grange, Ill., President of the Chicago & Southeastern railway, has gone to her final rest, her death occurring at the home of her daughter in Linn, Mass. Deceased was about seventy-five years old and for many years made this city her home, she and her husband being among the early settlers. The announcement came to Miss Chittenden in a letter from Mrs. M. J. Carpenter, who is also a former resident of this city and will be remembered as Rebecca Whittlesey.

The remains will be brought to this city for interment arriving here Saturday morning at 11:20 o'clock. A private car for the funeral party will be attached to the regular train and among those who will accompany the remains will be Mr. and Mrs. M. J. Carpenter and daughter of La Grange, Ill., the daughter with whom the deceased woman resided and a nephew from Linn, Mass. The remains will be taken direct to Oak Hill cemetery for interment and the brief service will be conducted by the Rev. W. W. Woodside, pastor of the First M. E. church of which Mrs. Carpenter was a member when she resided here.

Donahue Is Supervisor.

On account of a transposition of figures in the report of Tuesday's elections returns published last evening in the Gazette, the report read as if W. G. Palmer was elected supervisor in the Fourth ward. The report should have been Donahue, 306; Palmer, 256, which gives Mr. Donahue a majority of 49.

Marriage Licenses Today.

Marriage licenses were today issued to: Thoren B. Anderson of Milwaukee and Virginia Milford of Beloit. Carl E. Stephenson of Chicago and Ethel Dopp of Janesville. Charles M. Ny of Beloit to Violet L. Morse of Turtle. Fred W. Woodstock to Lily M. Holbrook both of Lima. Rose King to Peter S. Bennett, both of Clinton. Matthew H. Rodwig of Freeport to Lizzie McCann of Janesville. Edward H. Duthie of Bradford to Anna Little of Janesville. Charles W. Bennett of Chicago to Emily H. Featherstone of Milton.

Burnett-Young Wedding.

Miss Nellie Burnett and Gordon Young, both well-known young people of the town of Rock, went to Rockford yesterday and when they returned they were man and wife. The ceremony was performed by County Judge Rufus C. Bailey. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Burnett, who reside near Center. The groom is an enterprising young farmer and the young couple will make their home with Mrs. Eliza Young on her farm in the town of Rock.

Good Friday.

Services tomorrow (Good Friday) will be held as follows at Christ church: Service and sermon at 9 a. m.; three-hour devotion with addresses on the Seven Last Words from the Cross, 12 to 3 p. m.; evening service and address, 7:15 p. m. The public cordially invited to these services. At the three-hour service those who cannot remain to the end may withdraw any time during the singing of a hymn.

The Passion and Death.

At Trinity church tomorrow the three hours' devotion will be observed. Any who wish to spend the whole or any portion of the three hours with us, are gladly welcome.

Passion Week Services.

The Passion week services at the Congregational church are attracting large audiences and the Sunday school room, where the services are being held, has been filled every evening. The last of these illustrated talks will be given this evening when the Rev. R. C. Denison will speak on "The Crucifixion and the Resurrection." The stereopticon views of scenes in the life of Christ are very fine and the services have been considered a treat by all who have enjoyed them. Everyone is cordially invited to the service tonight.

LIFE'S JOURNEY IS ENDED.

Mrs. Nicholas Walsh Dead. After a brief illness with pneumonia Mrs. Nicholas Walsh passed on into the unknown country beyond the grave, her death occurring at her home 159 Linn street, last evening at 10:15 o'clock. Deceased was sixty-five years of age and had resided in this city for thirty-two years. She was a native of Ireland, her birthplace being Abby Fale in the county of Limerick. On the 27th of October 1861 she was married to Nicholas Walsh at West Newbury, Mass., and eight years later they came to this city where they have resided ever since. She enjoyed the high esteem of her friends and the love of a devoted family. She is survived by her husband and three daughters, Sister Mary Gonzaga and Mrs. Benjamin Nelson of this city and Mrs. Charles T. Emery of Chicago. Funeral services will be held from St. Patrick's church on Saturday morning at 9:30 o'clock.

Funeral of Mrs. Sheridan. The funeral of the late Mrs. Bridget Sheridan was held from St. Patrick's church this morning at 8:45 o'clock. Requiem mass was celebrated by the Rev. Father J. J. Collins in the presence of a large gathering of sorrowing friends. The interment was in Mount Olivet cemetery. The pall bearers were John Dawson, James Gagan, John Nolan and Spencer Schemmerhorn.

HAD NARROW ESCAPE FROM BEING KILLED

NORTHWESTERN TRAIN RUNS INTO TEAM AND HAY RACK.

Three Persons Have a Startling Experience at Milton Junction.—Young Carl Oldenwalder Was Badly Hurt—Fred Wille Slightly Injured—Two Horses Were Killed.

L. Oldenwalder and son Carl of Milton Junction and George Wille of the same place had a narrow escape from being killed by a railroad train at that place about ten thirty o'clock this morning.

They were crossing the Chicago and Northwestern tracks near the creamery driving a pair of horses attached to a hay rack.

A Chicago and Northwestern engine attached to a caboose struck them as they were crossing, killing the horses instantly and overturning the hay rack. The men were not thrown to the ground but remained in the wreck of the rack.

Young Oldenwalder was taken from the wreck suffering from concussion of the brain and from severe bruises around the shoulder and elbow. It is thought that his injuries will not prove fatal. Fred Wille was slightly injured about the arms and back. L. Oldenwalder was not injured.

At the time the accident occurred it is claimed that the train was running thirty-five miles an hour. By-standers say that the whistle and bell on the engine were not sounded before reaching the crossing and the occupants of the hay rack were not aware that a train was coming until it was too late to get out of the way.

There are a number of buildings on each side of the train at the place where the accident occurred and it is almost impossible to see a train coming until it is right on the crossing.

CLINTON BINDERY IN NEW QUARTERS

Local Well Known Firm Rent the Entire Second Floor of the Schaller Block.

The local bindery firm of W. E. Clinton & Company have moved into spacious quarters on South Main St. having rented the entire second floor of the new Schaller block. Much needed room is here secured. The utilized space is 60 by 24 feet. For years the business of W. E. Clinton & Company has gradually been on the gain till larger quarters were absolutely necessary. In their new home this enterprising firm will be capable of handling a much larger volume of business. Modern in every respect is their new establishment. Steam furnishes both heat and power. Gas and numerous electric lights are placed throughout the different departments. On entering the factory a cozy office greets the visitor. This room faces Main street and will fill a long felt want as in their old bindery there was no place for desk room.

In the rear of the new bindery carpenters have erected special work benches. Here the greater part of the bindery work will be carried on. The heavy presses have also been placed in this portion of the building. These presses are the latest in pattern and in themselves cost a goodly sum. In fact W. E. Clinton & Co. have spared no expense in making their new quarters complete in every detail. Since the passe par tout picture craze swept over this part of the country W. E. Clinton & Co. have made a specialty of this kind of work, framing thousands of pictures. This work will be conducted in their new establishment on a much larger scale. Both phones, number 229, have been placed in the office and all calls for work will receive prompt attention. For twenty-seven years Mr. Clinton has been in the bindery business and his many friends throughout the country will join in wishing him continued success.

Asks for Change of Venue

George Cone, the young man charged with stealing furs from the American Express company on March 9 and selling them to Beloit parties, was brought into the Municipal court this morning for trial. His attorney, Charles E. Pierce, presented an affidavit signed by Cone, alleging that he had reason to believe that he could not get a fair trial before Judge Fifield, and asked for a change of venue. Judge Fifield adjourned the case until tomorrow morning at ten o'clock when he will enter an order ordering the change.

Ladies' Aid Society.

The Ladies' Aid society of the Presbyterian church will hold its regular meeting in the church parlors tomorrow afternoon at two o'clock. The officers for the coming year are Mrs. Henry Hanson, president; Mrs. J. T. Henderson and Mrs. Silas Kent, vice presidents; Mrs. Edward Ruger, secretary; Mrs. S. B. Heddles, treasurer. The receipts for the last year were $567.15 and the annual balance report shows a balance of $135.38 in the treasury.

The State Bank of Orfordville, Wis., is responsible and asks a careful scrutiny as to its promoters. It is recommended by four governors and many banks. Pays four per cent. on six months and five per cent. on 12 months time deposits.

Ralph Jackman of Madison, son of Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Jackman of this city was a candidate for alderman on the democratic ticket at the late election. He made a first class run, but was defeated by Charles N. Brown by fifty votes. Considering that he is a young man and has lately moved to Madison speaks well for him.

To Canvass the Vote.

A special meeting of the Common Council will be held this evening at 7:30 o'clock to canvass the vote.

Engineer Menzie Was One of the Most Popular Men on the Milwaukee Road—Had Run from Beloit to Milwaukee for Nearly Twenty Years—Funeral at Beloit.

Charles Menzie, the Milwaukee engineer, who was killed at Milwaukee yesterday, lost his life in trying to save that of a friend and this final action was one of the characteristics of the man's entire life.

Mr. Menzie had gone into the Union depot at Milwaukee with his train at 8:30 o'clock, after completing his run from Beloit. He was joined shortly after by William Owens, engineer of the power plant at the Union depot, and Mr. Owens rode with him to the shops.

"About half an hour after," said Mr. Owens in relating the circumstances surrounding the accident, "Mr. Menzie, George Pierce, a machinist, and I were standing together at the north side of the roundhouse when a switch engine hove in sight. I stepped to the north side of the track. Menzie and Pierce, however, remained near a small sized door entering the roundhouse. Suddenly Menzie said to Pierce, 'Don't get caught, now' and with that he took hold of Pierce and shoved him through the door, as the rails were close to the building and he might otherwise have been hurt."

"I suppose he thought that he had time enough to get in himself, but instead the cylinder of the engine caught him at the waist and rolled him along the building the same as you would roll a pencil between your hand and a table. He did not cry out and I did not hear him say anything after. I was on the other side of the engine and did not see how he fell. We found him lying down and tried to make him as comfortable as possible, but he lived only about five minutes after the accident. We couldn't find any marks on his body and couldn't believe at first that he was fatally injured. There was no time to call a doctor, and the body was removed a short time after."

The train on which Mr. Menzie was accustomed to return to his home in Beloit was the one to take his body back to Beloit yesterday afternoon.

The funeral will be held under the auspices of the Knights Templar lodge.

Mr. Menzie was one of the most popular men in the service of the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul road. For nearly twenty years his run had been from Beloit to Milwaukee and return. He was a brother of Silas Menzie.

DIED TO SAVE THE LIFE OF A FRIEND

HEROIC DEED OF CHAS. MENZIE AT MILWAUKEE.

Engineer Menzie Was One of the Most Popular Men on the Milwaukee Road—Had Run from Beloit to Milwaukee for Nearly Twenty Years—Funeral at Beloit.

Charles Menzie, the Milwaukee engineer, who was killed at Milwaukee yesterday, lost his life in trying to save that of a friend and this final action was one of the characteristics of the man's entire life.

Mr. Menzie had gone into the Union depot at Milwaukee with his train at 8:30 o'clock, after completing his run from Beloit. He was joined shortly after by William Owens, engineer of the power plant at the Union depot, and Mr. Owens rode with him to the shops.

"About half an hour after," said Mr. Owens in relating the circumstances surrounding the accident, "Mr. Menzie, George Pierce, a machinist, and I were standing together at the north side of the roundhouse when a switch engine hove in sight. I stepped to the north side of the track. Menzie and Pierce, however, remained near a small sized door entering the roundhouse. Suddenly Menzie said to Pierce, 'Don't get caught, now' and with that he took hold of Pierce and shoved him through the door, as the rails were close to the building and he might otherwise have been hurt."

"I suppose he thought that he had time enough to get in himself, but instead the cylinder of the engine caught him at the waist and rolled him along the building the same as you would roll a pencil between your hand and a table. He did not cry out and I did not hear him say anything after. I was on the other side of the engine and did not see how he fell. We found him lying down and tried to make him as comfortable as possible, but he lived only about five minutes after the accident. We couldn't find any marks on his body and couldn't believe at first that he was fatally injured. There was no time to call a doctor, and the body was removed a short time after."

The train on which Mr. Menzie was accustomed to return to his home in Beloit was the one to take his body back to Beloit yesterday afternoon.

The funeral will be held under the auspices of the Knights Templar lodge.

Mr. Menzie was one of the most popular men in the service of the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul road. For nearly twenty years his run had been from Beloit to Milwaukee and return. He was a brother of Silas Menzie.

INDIAN FORD.
Indian Ford, April 4.—The water here has reached an alarming high stage and grave fears are entertained for the safety of the dam and grist mill.

A great deal of moving has been going on in and about this place. C. G. Biederman has moved to his new place northwest of Edgerton and Mr. Fritzke has taken Mr. Biederman's farm here.

Mr. William Cox is about to occupy the house he has purchased and repaired here in the village. Mr. Jake Reynolds has taken Pete Fox's house. Andrew Algrem is soon to leave for Utica, having rented a farm there. Henry Schuman has rented the McGrath house, Sam Hallett has purchased the store house formerly owned by Mr. Prye, and Mr. Lineau has moved up from Janesville into the house bought from Sam. Hallett.

Mr. Young of Chicago has been visiting friends here.

Mr. Gifford of Milton has been doing the papering and painting in Wm. Cox's house.

John Price has gone to Milton to work for Mr. Alex. Shuman.

Owing to the illness of the correspondent the Ford news has been sadly neglected of late.

Mr. and Mrs. L. Wood spent part of last week in Janesville.

Miss Mable Hopkins has returned home after spending a week at Westfield.

Next Sunday evening there will be preaching in the G. T. hall and we hope that every one will attend.

When a man is drowning his rescue is a question of timely help. It is the same thing in disease. Many a time the doctor says of a man whose condition is hopeless, "If you'd begun in time you might have been cured."

This is especially true when the disease affects the lungs. Delay is dangerous. The timely use of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery will result in a quick cure of deep-seated coughs, bronchitis, and weak lungs. Even when hemorrhages have been frequent and profuse "Golden Medical Discovery" has been used time and again with the result of a perfect and permanent cure.

Mr. McCauley, of Leechburg, Armstrong Co., Pa., had eighty-one hemorrhages, and after other medical aid had failed he was completely cured by the use of "Golden Medical Discovery."

Accept no substitute for "Golden Medical Discovery." There is no other medicine just as good for "weak" lungs.

"I was in poor health when I commenced taking Dr. Pierce's medicine," writes Mr. Elmer Lawler, of Volga, Jefferson Co., Ind. "I had stomach, kidney, heart, and lung troubles. Was not able to do any work. I had a severe cough and hemorrhage of the lungs, but after using your medicine a while I commenced gaining in strength and flesh, and stopped coughing right away. Took about six bottles of the 'Golden Medical Discovery' and two vials of Dr. Pierce's Peppermint Cure, and I feel like a different person. I gladly recommend your medicine to all sufferers, for I know it cured me."

Dr. Pierce's Common Sense Medical Adviser, paper covers, is sent free on receipt of 21 one-cent stamps, to pay expense of mailing only. Address Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.

Going to Build

Whether you contemplate building at an early date or not, you should have a copy of "BAKER'S TWENTY-THREE CENTURY BUILDS." It is the most complete book of Architectural Designs published. Nearly 150 pages, printed on heavy cream paper. It is not a theoretical book. Every design shown is from the actual working plans of buildings that have been erected under the direction of our supervising architect. Consequently it is practical in every respect. It embraces subjects from an attractive cottage at a few hundred dollars to a modern, up-to-date residence, costing many thousands of dollars. The perspectives are full-page illustrations while the floor plans are half-page sketches. The descriptions are complete and easily understood; in fact it is an ideal book of practical up-to-date designs and intelligent descriptions. The regular price is $2.00 but we would like to present you a copy free of charge. If you could call at our office we would take pleasure in presenting you a copy free of charge. As this is not possible, we will send you a copy by express, charges prepaid upon receipt of only 25c, to cover cost of transportation.

THE BUCKET-SHOPS PROBLEM

This Federal Law Hard to Enforce.

SEEKING LIGHT ON SUBJECT.

Bucket-Shops Are Prohibited by Law in Four States—Officials in Washington Will Work Hand in Hand with Collector Hertz at Chicago.

Washington, April 3.—Collector Hertz of Chicago has a troublesome problem to solve in the new bucket-shop law. He is receiving the assistance of the commissioner of internal revenue, and the entire force of that bureau, all making strenuous efforts to discover a method by which it can be successfully enforced. In four states—Illinois, Iowa, Missouri and New York—bucket-shops are prohibited by law. The attempts that have been made in Chicago to enforce the state law have met with indifferent success. A conviction was secured through a confession, but the efforts of the Chicago Board of Trade have not been fruitful, because of an inability to prove to the satisfaction of the courts that the concerns are bucket-shops as alleged.

Seek Interpretation of Law. An interpretation of the new federal law by the commissioner of internal revenue has already been sought. A large firm, with headquarters in Kansas City, recently in the courts at Chicago, through an effort of the Board of Trade to remove its ticker service and prohibit the display of bulletins, appeared before the commissioner with voluminous briefs and a prominent lawyer, and made an argument in support of the contention that it came within section 2 of the law, which reads: "Upon each sale, agreement of sale or agreement to sell any products or merchandise at any exchange, or board of trade, or other similar place, either for present or future delivery, for each $100 of value in said sale or agreement of sale or agreement to sell, 1 cent, and for each additional $100 or fractional part thereof in excess of $100, 1 cent, etc." The members of the firm explained in detail their method of conducting business, produced books and extracts to show that their transactions daily were more than half as large as those of the Chicago board of trade, and contended that their settlements were on the same basis. They have constructed warehouses where they store products and merchandise for delivery should it be demanded, and have placed themselves, they assert, in a position where they are entitled to classification under the head "or other similar places."

Is Left to the Courts. They are not bucket shops within the definition given in section three, they claim, and sought of the commissioner a ruling which would protect them against the imposition of the special taxes of that section. The commissioner refused to classify them under section two, preferring that the merits of their claims should be passed upon by the courts. This is a fair sample of the fight which Collector Hertz must enter. The burden of proof is upon the government.

BOTH TRYING TO MEET DEWET.

Boer Generals Trying to Secure a Conference—British Plans.

Standerford, April 4.—Dewet is reported in the vicinity of Vrede. Botha has not passed here, as stated, to meet Dewet. It is believed Botha wants a conference with Dewet, who will try to join him by crossing the line near Platland. The British are trying to frustrate a meeting of Dewet and Botha, and an excellent system of native scouts has been organized, which keeps the intelligence department well supplied with information about the plans and movements of the Boers.

PANAMA CANAL OFFER.

Colombia Willing to Lease Territory in the United States.

New York, April 4.—A special to the Herald from Washington says: Specific official denials greeted the published report that J. Pierpont Morgan, having discovered a gold mine on the Panama canal route, would head a syndicate to build the canal, and had secured President McKinley's cooperation and the aid of Colombia. Denials came from the White House, the state department, the Colombian legation and the French embassy. Most of those who denied the report declared that it was started to make difficult the negotiation of canal treaties by the United States. The new development in the canal situation is that Minister Silva, who is also Colombian minister of foreign affairs, in his memorandum to Secretary Hay has formally agreed on behalf of his government to grant the United States a long lease of the territory through which the canal passes. He states emphatically, however, that his government would not be willing to cede sovereignty. The lease is to be granted on these terms: The United States shall pay to Colombia in half-yearly installments during the first twenty-five years after the opening of the canal to the public service a share amounting to 5 per cent of its gross income; during a second period of twenty-five years 6 per cent; during a third 7 per cent, and during a fourth 8 per cent. This is on the basis of a ninety-nine-year lease. The United States guarantees that this share shall be no less than $250,000 annually. In case of the issuance of stock Colombia is to receive a share, based upon that given it by the Panama Canal company, amounting to one-thirtieth of the number of shares issued. Colombia is to receive $250,000 annually for the use of the railroad, Colombian mails, troops and effects belonging to the republic, and emigrants to the country up to the number of 2,000 must receive railroad transportation free of charge. Colombian vessels are to be allowed freely to use the canal. Finally, Colombia binds herself to grant permission to the French Canal company to negotiate with the United States for the sale of its concession. The concession absolutely forbids the company "to cede or mortgage its rights under any consideration whatever to another nation or foreign government under penalty or forfeiture." Senator Hanna's attention was called to the report that J. Pierpont Morgan had formed a syndicate to buy the rights of the French Panama Canal company and that in conversation with the president and Senator Hanna Mr. Morgan had advocated the abandonment of the Nicaraguan route. "Yes, I have already seen that report," he said, "and you may say for me that there is not a word of truth in it. Personally, I have never expressed a preference for any route, but as for this story, I have never heard of such a thing. If Mr. Morgan is going into the canal business, I am not in his confidence."

BULL FIGHTS AT BUFFALO FAIR

Will Be Realistic Exhibitions, with Cruelty Left Out.

New York, April 4.—H. F. McGarvie, president of the Pan-American Concessionaires' association, has just returned from Mexico. He said last night at the Hotel Bartholdi that President Diaz is in first rate health. He said there will be bull fighting at the Pan-American exposition, with the blood and cruelty left out. "The Mexican government is sending up a fine exhibit to the streets of Mexico, one of the features of the exposition," said Mr. McGarvie. "There will be representatives of all the military organizations of the republic, including the mountain police, who will have brand new uniforms. There will be a squad of the most expert bull fighters and fighting bulls in Mexico. The bulls are the fiercest and quickest that can be found. There will be given realistic exhibitions of bull fighting, with the cruelty left out. The bulls will have full swing, and the toreros will give exhibitions of horsemanship and dodging in keeping clear of their sharp horns. Instead of running a blade into the bull at the point of the contest when the animal usually is killed, the fighter will place a rosette on his hide on the spot where he would naturally strike the bull."

SAGASTA HAS INFLUENZA.

Madrid, April 4.—Premier Sagasta has been confined to his bed for twelve days with a serious and prolonged attack of influenza. His doctors have prohibited him from attending to state affairs and from receiving visitors. They promise unhesitatingly, however, that the venerable chief of the Spanish government, despite his 73 years, will shortly recover his health if he follows their instructions. The queen regent displays deep concern and inquires daily regarding his condition.

CONCERNED OVER VENEZUELA.

British Business Men Watching the Trouble with United States.

London, April 4.—British business men who have interests at stake in Venezuela are watching with serious concern the developments of the little republic's imbroglio with the United States. They have no patience with the talk of "bullying" which is so freely indulged in by anti-American journals like William Waldorf Astor's Pall Mall Gazette, whenever those interesting publications design to comment on the situation. The thoughtful Britons, on the contrary, complain that Lord Lansdowne is hopelessly indifferent to the affairs of his countrymen in South America and for whatever relief or protection the course of events shall render necessary to them in Venezuela they look to Washington.

Secretary F. Thomas of the Orinoco Shipping and Trading Company, which has just recovered possession of two boats that were seized in a high-handed manner by the Venezuelan authorities, said to the Daily News correspondent today: "Our latest advice tell of a condition of things which indicate that Venezuela is on the verge of internal turmoil. It is certain at least that the regime of President Castro is doomed. He is opposed by such men as Nicanor Peraza, Ignacio Andrade and Dr. Rodriguez, without whose support he cannot hope to maintain himself in our very long. Englishmen and Europeans generally will regret the recall of United States Minister Loomis. We regarded him as a peculiarly able man. Whatever the cause of his withdrawal, Venezuelans are sure to construe it in a spirit of truculence that will be very embarrassing to his successor as well as to the diplomatic representatives of other nations. We who are most familiar with the disgraceful state of affairs existing in Venezuela wish that the United States would wade in and clean out the Venezuelan government. It would be a task of easy accomplishment if undertaken at the present time. If it is postponed, however, one readily foresees the possibility of having Germany to reckon with presently."

Mad Man Slays Physician.

Sunbury, Pa., April 4.—Dr. Johnson, a physician in the state hospital for the insane at Danville, Montour county, was slain by a patient of the name of Capello. Capello became unmanageable during the afternoon and created a panic among the other inmates, whose cries of alarm could be heard some distance away. An attendant finally subdued the Italian, and as Dr. Johnson was stooping over him taking his temperature he plunged a knife into the doctor's breast, three times. Thinking he was not seriously hurt Dr. Johnson started toward his room, but before he had proceeded very far fell to the floor dead.

Whipping Post for Boys.

Indianapolis, Ind., April 4.—Police Judge William C. Daly has adopted the whipping post for youths. Jimmy Heidelberg, aged 12 years, was thrashed by his father in the police matron's office, Judge Daly suspending sentence in his case if the parent would administer the chastisement. Two other boys, both colored, got the official lash. The judge said: "This is a permanent institution. I am going to stop the juvenile cussedness and the offenders will be made to feel the force of my remarks."

Hope for Unvaccinated.

Kalamazoo, Mich., April 4.—Judge John A. Adams of the circuit court has issued a peremptory injunction requiring the local school authorities not to bar the children of George Matthews, who were excluded from the school because their parents refused to have them vaccinated. The decision is the result of a test case entered into in a friendly spirit between Matthews and the school authorities with the understanding that the other side take the case to the supreme court.

Village Devastated by Fire.

Port Dodge, Iowa, April 4.—The little village of Lehigh, eighteen miles south of this city, was devastated by fire. The buildings burned included the postoffice, Ross' hardware store, Lehigh Valley Bank, William Young's barber shop, Albee's livery stable, William Barrowman, dry goods; J. Tule's restaurant and D. Cunningham's restaurant. The town has no fire department and citizens fought the flames with a bucket brigade.

Fruit Crop in Danger.

Atlanta, Ga., April 4.—The Georgia fruit crop, valued at millions of dollars, hangs on the result of weather conditions. If the next twelve hours do not bring a freeze a plentiful yield is certain, but should the mercury fall it would ruin the crop. Arrangements are being made in the big orchards throughout the state to build huge bonfires to lessen the effect of the freeze should it develop.

Valuable Silk Consignment.

Victoria, B. C., April 4.—The steamer Empress of Japan, which arrived last night from the orient, had the most valuable consignment of silk ever brought in one steamer from a Chinese port, she having loaded 1,060 cases valued at over 1,000,000 taels, at Shanghai.

JEWS CELEBRATE PASSOVER.

Observance of the Anniversary is Commenced at Sunset.

The Jews commenced the celebration of the feast of the passover yesterday at sunset. The celebration will continue with the orthodox Jews for eight days, and with the Reformed Jews for seven days. The feast commemorates the delivery of the Israelites from the bondage of Egypt more than 3,000 years ago.

The feast is begun at sunset on Wednesday with a service in every Jewish home. At this service the father presides. The family gathers around the table upon which are the symbols of the feast. A roasted lamb represents the paschal lamb, a loaf of unleavened bread represents the haste with which the Israelites departed from Egypt, and a bundle of bitter herbs reminds them of the bitter experiences of their forefathers. The father recites passages from the Talmud, relates the story of the liberation of the Jews, and psalms are sung. The following day there is a service in the synagogue with ceremonies appropriate to the occasion.

Roosters often crow over eggs they did not lay. Same with people who tell an imitation Rocky Mountain Tea, made famous by the Madison Medicine Co's advertising. 35c. Sold at Smith's pharmacy, kodak agents, next to postoffice.

Think Settlement Likely.

Liverpool, April 4.—The White Star line steamer Majestic, which sailed from here to-day for New York, has among her passengers E. P. Morris, the Newfoundland delegate on the French shore question. Mr. Morris said that, while a settlement had not actually been reached, he was hopeful that they were nearing the end of the difficulty.

D'Oyley Carte Is Dead.

London, April 4.—D'Oyley Carte, the theatrical manager and impresario, died this morning at Tunbridge Wells, counties of Kent and Surrey.

GAIN FLESH

An Absolute Necessity in Many Cases.

A DECREASE IN WEIGHT FREQUENTLY INDICATES A DECLINE.

Our Modern Rebuilder, Vinol, Will Help You Do It.

THE WAY IT ACTS ON A DEPLETED CONSTITUTION IS SIMPLY MARVELOUS.

Are you getting thin? If you are you had better water yourself. Take Vinol. It will build you up quickly and surely.

A healthy man does not vary much from year to year in his weight. This is as it should be. Vinol enables the organs of the body to renew flesh, muscle tissue, bone structure, and tends to purifying the great vital current of the human system, the blood. Vinol contains the active curative properties of Cod-Liver Oil in a highly concentrated state, and is the most wonderful tonic that we have ever had anything to do with.

Vinol acts upon the stomach in a beneficial way, enabling it to obtain for itself the necessary ingredients from the food that is taken into it to build up the pure healthy body and increase the weight.

Mr. H. M. Stufell, who is a well-known passenger trainman on the Boston and Maine Railroad, suffered, as many railroad men do, with kidney and other troubles. He writes as follows:

"My kidneys troubled me a great deal, my bowels were very irregular, I had great distress in my stomach, suffered with bilious headaches, had no appetite, could not sleep nights, and was losing flesh rapidly. I began to take Vinol, I am now on my third bottle, and it is doing wonders for me. My kidneys are better, my bowels are again regular, my stomach no longer troubles me, and no more headaches, and as for appetite, don't speak of it; I sleep like a top and have gained thirteen pounds. You can count on me always to recommend Vinol as the king of medicines."

With many such testimonials as the above coming before us, it is not strange that we endorse Vinol as strongly as we do. We unhesitatingly agree to return to any one who has taken Vinol and is not satisfied that it has accomplished all that we claim for it every cent that they have paid us for this remedy.

SPRING

The gentle spring is surely here,
The season poets hold most dear.
They've held her up in every light
And yet they do not cease to write.

Spring always comes with lavish hand
And scatters gladness o'er the land.
Twist rich and poor no favor shows:
She cheers the heart where'er she goes.

She clothes the earth in robes of green,
All nature hastens to greet their queen;
Queen of seasons, she breaks the chain
King Winter bound on hill and plain.

The brooklets babble freedom's song
As merrily they flow along.
On mossy banks, late white with snow
Sweet violets and daisies grow.

When fragrant flowers everywhere
Shed sweetest perfume through the air,
We strew them o'er the soldier's grave,
Thus spring pays tribute to the brave.

The merry springtime, loved by all
Brings joy to each, both great and small;
But Oh! how varied are our joys
For age and youth, for girls and boys.

To aged ones, who longing wait
The opening of the pearly gate,
Spring is an emblem fair and bright
Of fadeless spring when all is light.

When spring began and when 'twill end
Upon the ground-hog does depend;
'Tis said if he his shadow saw
For six weeks more he'll suck his paw.

WITH THE STATE LAW MAKERS.

ILLINOIS.

Wednesday, April 3.

Case garnishment law repeal was under fierce discussion through most of the senate session. The repealer was finally advanced to third reading without material amendment. Its friends claim to have votes enough to pass it. The McKenzle amendment was the bone of contention. That provides the exemption shall be $50, as in the old law of four years ago, on debts contracted for everything except the necessities of life, and that on such debts the exemption from garnishment shall be $9 a week or 75 per cent of the weekly wage, the debtor to elect which form of exemption he shall plead. Senators McKenzle, Meshan, Brenholt and Dunlap were for the amendment; Senators Mahoney, Shumway, Riley, Bailey, Fowler and Davidson were passionately against it. All amendments were tabled except one providing that notice must be given before garnishment suit may be brought, and the bill was advanced and made a special order for passage in the morning.

Do Not Land at Queenstown.

Queenstown, April 4.—Neither the big White Star liner Oceanic, from New York, nor the American Line steamer Wassland, from Philadelphia, was able to communicate with shore when they arrived off this port this morning.

Owing to the gale which prevailed they were compelled to proceed on their way to Liverpool without landing any mail or passengers.

Attacked by Pet Dog.

Newburg, April 4.—Dr. R. J. Kingston, a surgeon of the National Guard, was attacked this morning while in bed by his pet dog, a big St. Bernard, which had a fit. After a desperate struggle, in which Dr. Kingston was badly bitten, he choked the dog to death.

Shirtwaists for Officers.

Syracuse, N. Y., April 4.—The policemen of this city are to be fitted out this summer with shirtwaist uniforms. The mail-carriers asked Postmaster Bruce whether he would permit the postmen to do the same and he endorsed the plan.

Boers Derail a Train.

London, April 1.—A dispatch to the war office from General Kitchener, dated Pretoria, March 30, says that a train was derailed by a mine near Pan. Two hundred Boers who were advancing to loot the train were driven off with a loss of six killed. The British sustained no losses. A train of empty cars was wrecked last night at Olifant's Fontein. Nobody was hurt. Fifteen hundred horses and other stock from the Orange River Colony have been brought in recently. The troops making the captures killed seven Boers, wounded nine, and captured seventy.

A WARNING! AND A LITTLE Wall Paper Advice

Judiciously mixed. The quiet, artistic beauty of a home is destroyed by inharmonious wall decorations.

No matter how tasteful the furnishings of your home may be, if the wall paper is not in keeping with the furniture, the effect will be thoroughly disagreeable. The cannot get happy results from poor paper. In this year of 1901 there is absolutely no excuse for anyone buying in-artistic and inharmonious wall paper, no matter how thin the paper may be. It is merely a question of going to the right place—to the place where a stock of wall paper large enough and varied enough in quality, design and price to suit all people's tastes and purses is kept—a store which aids its customers in selecting harmonious combinations of colors, and which has its own wall paper hangings and decorators, who do your work in a careful and conscientious manner.
